DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claim 10 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The recitation at lines 2 and 3 is vague and indefinite. There is no structure which would define the meets and bonds of the claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1, 2, 4, 5, 7, 9-11, 13, 15 and 20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Bonanno in view of Cortese.

There is disclosed in Bonanno a beverage brewing apparatus, comprising: a base 2 provided with a compartment (cartridge receiving area) for brewing; means 21 for providing hot water under pressure into the compartment; connecting means 92 for conveying the brewed beverage to a dispensing point; a brewing head comprising: a hollow containment structure 5, a first hollow piston 7 within the containment structure movable relative thereto, a second piston 9 within the first piston movable relative thereto, and elastic means 14 opposing the movement of the second piston; wherein the first and second pistons are operated by the direct action of a fluid under pressure provided to the containment structure by a conduit 52.

Cortese discloses, in a piston style brewing apparatus, a rotatable base 52 for receiving a beverage cartridge, the base being rotatable upward to allow entry of the cartridge to the case brewing chamber.

It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to modify the base of Bonanno with that taught in Cortese, in order to allow entry of a brewing cartridge with minimal horizontal movement of the base and brewing head with respect to each other.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 3, 6, 8, 12, 14 and 16-19 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The patent to Basile et al. is cited for its disclosure of the state of the art.
